GET FAMILIAR!

WELCOME! Get Familiar with your Instructors & Classroom Learning

Welcome to our Trichology Course! We hope you're ready for an engaging and rewarding classroom learning experience with plenty of reading, thinking, discussion, analysis, practicals and evaluation.

Your first step is to become familiar with your instructors and your courses. You may be wondering: Where do I go first? How do I navigate? If this is your first modular classroom experience, or if you've completed many modular classes, please begin by exploring and becoming familiar with our learning set-up. Every module is organized a bit differently and getting a feel requires taking some time to study this booklet to understand how everything is laid out.

MEET YOUR INSTRUCTORS

Daisy Obiano is a year 2000 graduate of Biochemistry from Edo State University, with over fifteen years working experience in administration, human resource, marketing, and sales. She is a self starter, innovative, dynamic and resourceful. Her various leadership roles over the years have seen her developing people and communicating across borders. Riding on her immense passion for beauty, she has continued to take significant strides in the industry, breaking barriers to become a loved brand in the hair care business. She graduated with merit and an international certification from the Hair Academy of South Africa and she is a certified brand stockiest. As a City and Guilds London Certified stylist, she operates the user right of the best brand product for hair care.

She was the official instructor for L’Oreal Professional/Mizani brand (the professional authority for all curl textures) in Nigeria for three years before she moved on to establish Capelli Institute of Trichology.

Daisy has a Higher Diploma in Medical Aesthetic from the Lagos State Institute of Science and Technology. Also, she is very passionate in her field of career and this have led her into further study and research in beauty and trichology especially in the area of hair loss due to her passion to help men and women maintain the best hair integrity and minimize the level of Alopecia.

She is the CEO of Capelli Salon and Beauty Parlour and the Head instructor at Capelli Institute of Trichology with international standard curriculum that enhances not just the technical skill but the scientific knowledge and procedures in hair therapy. The excellence in the delivery of the training distinguishes the therapists who study at Capelli institute of Trichology.

Daisy has built a team of exceptional talents and professionals who discharges their duty with utmost commitment and without reservation and this has led to a long life vision which was birthed in August 2020 to give back and build young professionals who dares to be different in their hair therapy career. The Capelli Give Back Initiative is an NGO for young ladies in distinct positions; helping them achieve their dreams and becoming distinguished entrepreneurs and employable members of the society.

The Trichology co-instructor, Inioluwa Akinnola is a rare find in the education sector today. This diversified and versatile young lady studied Education Fine and Applied Arts in the University. Taking classes at various hair shows, with some of the leading personnel in the natural hair community, Inioluwa started a FREE community hair class on her WhatsApp status. She had nothing less than 250 students which she personally educated on a weekly basis; Mondays and Tuesdays. She taught them for FREE with so much passion and consistently did this for a year. This have helped Inioluwa excel at her teaching skills; communication, listening, collaboration, adaptability, empathy and patience. She is committed to giving her students premium content and excellent explanation. She has an engaging classroom presence and value in real-world learning. She strongly believes that in a class of ten, same method of teaching and evaluation cannot apply to all ten, which is why she strives to adopt different methods of teaching in each of her classes. She achieves this excellently using various illustrations to backup a particular point. At a certain point in her career, Inioluwa realized that she had to have a thorough understanding of the hair and scalp because a majority of women; herself included complained and experienced hair thinning and hair loss. She decided to become a certified Trichologist and she enrolled at Capelli Institute of Trichology, where she acquired her Trichology license and also teaches Trichology.

Note: Inioluwa, in her words, had the best Trichology teacher anyone could ask for. She described Ms Daisy Obiano as the most phenomenal teacher she has ever met.
