WELCOME TO CAPELLI INSTITUTE OF TRICHOLOGY

Welcome to Capelli Institute of Trichology (CIT) – a centre of excellence dedicated to professional trichology education, ethical hair science, and transformative practice.

We are delighted to welcome you into a community of purpose-driven learners, practitioners, and educators committed to restoring hair, confidence, and dignity through science, skill, and compassion.

At CIT, learning goes beyond theory. You will be trained to think critically, practice ethically, and operate professionally in real-world trichology and hair-care environments.

ABOUT CAPELLI INSTITUTE OF TRICHOLOGY

Capelli Institute of Trichology is a professional training arm of Capelli, established to raise a new generation of competent, ethical, and globally relevant trichologists.

The Institute blends:

- Scientific hair and scalp education
- Hands-on clinical and practical training
- Professional ethics and client management
- Business and practice readiness

Our programmes are designed to meet industry needs while upholding excellence, integrity, and results.

Founder's Profile

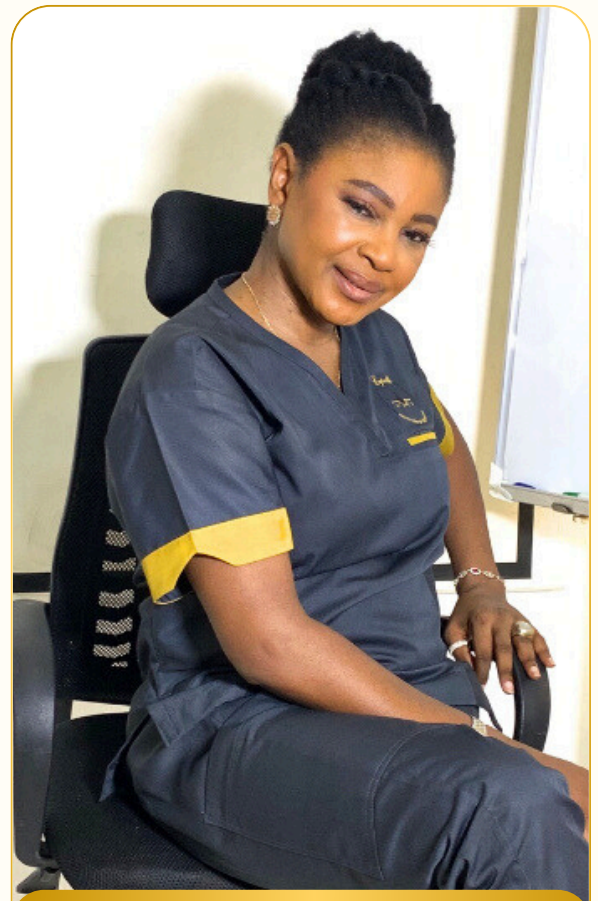

Dr. Daisy Obiano is a seasoned trichologist, educator, researcher, and author, with a passion for restoring hair health and transforming lives through evidence-based trichology.

She is the founder of Capelli and the visionary behind Capelli Institute of Trichology. With years of hands-on clinical experience, Dr. Obiano is committed to bridging the gap between hair science and practical application.

Her work focuses on:

- Hair loss treatment and scalp health
- Trichology education and mentorship
- Ethical practice and professional standards
- Research-driven solutions in hair science

Dr. Obiano is also the author of The Truth of Hair Science, reflecting her dedication to educating professionals and the public on accurate hair and scalp knowledge.
